Virtual Event Express is a self-service solution that enables users to create fully branded, engaging virtual events in just a few hours.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 07, 2020 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Intrado Corporation ("Intrado" or the “Company”), a global leader in technology-enabled services, today announced the addition of Virtual Event Express to their Digital Media solutions portfolio. Virtual Event Express is a self-service platform that streamlines the creation of online events. Customers with access to Intrado’s Studio Webcasting platform can now build a complete virtual event environment in hours, rather than weeks or months.

“The increased demand for virtual events calls for innovation in the space,” said Ben Chodor, President of Intrado Digital Media. “With Virtual Event Express, we make virtual events available and accessible to a wider audience by significantly lowering the barriers to entry – cost, setup time, and support. As a result, our customers will be able to scale their virtual event activity easily and cost-effectively.”

Expanding on Intrado Digital Media’s award-winning virtual event solution, Virtual Event Express is a do-it-yourself platform designed to provide customers with greater control over their events’ setup and delivery, no coding required. The platform allows users to create branded, engaging events that can include live webcasts and engagement tools. To ensure a complete interactive experience with event attendees, Virtual Event Express is easily integrated with Intrado Digital Media’s webcasting platform, online meeting tools, and third-party solutions.
